

Do you provide care for a family member while working full time? Join Baylor University and Texas State University in a new research opportunity to learn more about family caregivers.

We are seeking participants for a new study on how family caregiving affects work and family dynamics. Participation only requires you to fill out two online surveys. In return, each person who completes the study will receive a $25 Amazon gift card.

To find out if you are qualified and to sign up, visit <https://tinyurl.com/BaylorCaregiving> or email Dr. Matt Quade at matt_quade@baylor.edu by August 29, 2020.
